BOMBAY GAZETTE
Extraordinary,

THURSDAY, 28th AUGUST, 1817.

We have just received a Madras Gazette Extraordinary and lose no time in publishing it's material contents.

Mr. Baron Richards has been sworn in Chief Baron of the Exchequer.

The Duchess of Gloucester was indisposed.

The Parliament met on the 24th April and the Speaker resumed his duties.

Captain Ross took leave of the court on the 23d and it would appear that the Carmarthen was coming here direct.

The Asia had not sailed on the 19th but was expected to do so the very next day.

Mr. Vansittart has declared he shall have no occasion to fund this year.

The Duke of Wellington was in England and expected to remain there about two months.

The Princess of Wales had been at Vienna, but had left it for Como.

The Marquis of Lothian has been elected a representative peer of Scotland in the room of Earl Rothes.

Mr. Platt is not expected to recover.

It is at length ascertained that Her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte is likely to fulfil the expectations of the country and gratify the fondest wishes of her august Father.

There is no doubt, we believe, that the Speaker will retire, and that Mr. Manners Sutton will be proposed as his successor.

The report is revived of an intended interview between the Emperors of Russia and Austria in Gallicia.

It is remarkable, that in the Austrian Observer (the official paper of Austria) Buonaparte's memorial is given at length, in three successive numbers; together with a full account of the debate that took place on Lord Holland's motion, with regard to the treatment of the Ex-Emperor.

THE FUNDS.—The Market this morning was a shade better than yesterday. Consols opened at 72¼ Money, and 72$\frac{15}{16}$ for the Account. The contest still continues between the house and the parties we before alluded to, and the latter maintained that a great advance will shortly take place. The orders and bullion received from abroad by every mail to purchase English Stock is greater than ever was known, and it is positively asserted that the bankers have at present ten millions in hand, with orders to purchase Stock the first favorable opportunity.

THE TRAVELLER—APRIL 21,

Mr. Thornton, our late Ambassador at Stockholm it is said, is going out as British Minister to the Court of Rio Janeiro.

We understand that measures have been taken to prevent Lord Cochrane from proceeding to Spanish America, in a ship of the force which he had purchased, and in the formidable way which he intended.

General Maitland, was immediately expected in Italy, where he intends to examine the country in all directions.

After the 2d of May, the Bank will pay cash for all notes of one and two Pounds value, dated prior to the 1st of Jan. 1816.

THE TRAVELLER—April 22, 1817.

The Army.—The following is a correct statement of the Irish Staff, as arranged subsequent to the late reduction;—

Commander of the Forces, Sir George Beckwith.

Dublin.—Lieut.-General Lord Forbes, Major-Generals Trotter, White, and Fyers.

Armagh—Major General Burnett.

Tullamore—Major-General Kemmis.

Clonmell—Major-General Doyle.

Limerick—Major-General O'Loughlin.

Cork—Major-General Gordon.

Athlone—Major General Buller.

THE TRAVELLER,—APRIL 26.

There was no further intelligence from Clumber Park, yesterday. The Duchess of Newcastle has happily escaped the fever, but her anxiety may be readily supposed to have affected her much, and the child, of which she was delivered, is dead. Fifteen of the family, including servants, are ill of the fever.

The Sun of yesterday evening says, that there is no foundation for the report of Lord C. Somerset's removal from the Cape, to be succeeded by the gallant Huntly nor that the 93d regiment is going to St. Helena from Ireland.

The improvement in the demand at the Corn Market yesterday, is chiefly attributed to accounts from France. Notwithstanding the extensive exports lately from the East coast of England, the prices are stated to be advancing rapidly, and the supply inadequate to the demand.

THE TRAVELLER—APRIL 28.

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM THE AGENT TO LLOYD'S DATED BUENOS AYRES, FEBRUARY 4, 1817.

"The Portuguese have at length taken possession of Monte Video and Colonia del Sacramento, without firing a shot. It is understood that foreign shipping are to be freely admitted under the same regulations as at Rio Janeiro."

Madras.

This morning arrived the Ship Cornwall, Captain John Wilson, from London 29th of April.

PASSENGERS.—Captain and Mrs. Hatherly, Lieut. and Mrs. Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson, Miss Hughes, Mr. Turner and Mr. Cruttenden.

This Ship has brought a few private letters.

We are concerned to observe from these accounts that her Majesty had been seriously indisposed; and been obliged in consequence to put off the Drawing Room intended to have been held on the 23d April—but the last accounts, we are happy to say, states that her Majesty was perfectly recovered, and the Bulletins had been discontinued.

In consequence of the illness of the Speaker the House of Commons had been adjourned for several days, and little public business had taken place in the House, in consequence.

On the 25th April, Mr. Calcraft moved that a Committee be appointed to enquire into the Duties on Salt, on which the Chancellor of the Exchequer moved the previous question—On a division there appeared for the previous question 79—against it 70—Majority for the previous question 9.

On the 28th the Chancellor of the Exchequer moved a resolution for the issue of 2½ Millions of Exchequer Bills for the relief of the Poor—which was to be lent on security; this was unanimously agreed to.

We mentioned in a former publication, that it was the intention of His Majesty's Ministers to pay off the five per cents, which these accounts fully confirm.
